The Associate of Arts in University Studies degree offers a basic core of learning in the field of liberal arts for those students who wish to begin their studies now and intend to pursue professional studies in a bachelor's degree at a later date.

The Associate of Arts in University Studies degree consists of the Foundational Core for associate degrees of twenty-seven (27) semester hours and thirty-three (33) semester hours in unrestricted electives in communication skills, humanities, social sciences, mathematics, and natural sciences.

The Bachelor of Arts in University Studies may be taken with or without a concentration. The approved concentrations are in Business Administration, Education, and Psychology. These concentrations require courses mirrored in Oakland City University's bachelor's degrees within these majors, but the University Studies degree provides space for additional exploration outside the major's curriculum. The University Studies major may also be taken without a concentration allowing the student to create his or her own multidisciplinary degree.

The Bachelor of Arts in University Studies consists of the Foundational Core for bachelor's programs of thirty-two (32) to thirty-eight (38) semester hours, option of an approved concentration, and at least thirty (30) semester hours at the 300 and 400 level.
