MEASURE	DESCRIPTION AND HOW IT WAS CALCULATED
ND	No Data - There were too few records to produce a reportable value.
Bachelor of Science in Business Administration	The cohort was created from the Fall 2018 dataset utilized for all federal reporting of graduation rates. Students are seeking a bachelor’s degree, first-time freshman, who are enrolled full-time. The Graduation date was compared to the start date of the student's first course to calculate the completions within 4 years and 6 years. Below is a copy of the graduation rate definition from IPEDS for greater clarification concerning the methodology implemented in this summary.
Bachelor of Applied Science in Operations Management	The cohort was created from a dataset of Fall 2020 and S2020-2020 full-time undergraduate students (transfers included) utilized for all federal reporting of graduation rates. The cohort was established by looking at the first undergraduate course the student took during Fall 2020. The graduation date was compared to the start date of the student’s first course during Fall 2020 and 2018 to calculate the completions within 4 years and 6 years.
Master of Business	The cohort was established by looking at the first graduate

Administration/Master of Science in Strategic Management	The course students took at OCU. All students with graduate transfer credits were not included within this cohort. The graduation date was compared to the start date of the student's first course to calculate the completions within 2 years and 3 years.
Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS)	Graduation rate data provide information on institutional productivity and help institutions comply with reporting requirements of the Student Right-to-Know Act (1990) and the Higher Education Act, amended (2008). Graduation rates data are collected for full-time, first-time degree and certificate-seeking undergraduate students. Data collected include: (a) Number of students entering the institution as full-time, first-year degree or certificate-seeking students in a particular year (cohort), by race/ethnicity and gender; (b) Number of students completing their program within a time period equal to one and a half times (150%) the normal period of time, by race/ethnicity, gender, and Pell status; and (c) Number of students who transferred to other institutions.
